CANDIDATE FOR PRESIDENT IN 1864

ABRAHAM LINCOLN.

[The Governor's Proclamation.

In consequence of the crowded condition of our columns during the past two weeks we have not been able to direct the attention of the people to the Proclamation issued by Gov. Connelly on the 4th inst in reference to the relations which now exist between the citizens and the Navajo Indians.

By the Proclamation all are informed that hostilities no longer exist with the Navajos. That the large numbers of the tribe which have surrendered themselves to the military authorities warrant a proclamation of a cessation of hostilities to the whole, and that therefore all armed expeditions which shall hereafter go into the Navajo Country will be unlawful and punished with the severest penalties.

Another matter of importance to a very large number of our citizens is that part of the proclamation which refers to the traffic in Indian captives which has prevailed for so many years in the Territory. Those who are disposed to deal in captives will observe that the Governor warns them that "measures are now being taken by the Department of the Interior to have all Indians surrendered who have been sold into slavery." This will of course depreciate the value of that species of servants for the present and eventually render them of no value whatever.

The Proclamation is one of so much importance that it should be read and understood by the people generally. If its contents are known many will be prevented from falling into errors from the consequences of which they would not be able to extricate themselves without difficulty.

We again commend the Proclamation to the attention of our readers.

The United States and France.

The article which we publish from the National Intelligencer, on the first page of this issue, shows that there is a proper spirit prevailing in the House of Representatives in reference to the French-Mexican question. Our people in New Mexico view movements of this kind, in the right direction, with peculiar interest for they are near the scenes of the French usurpations and will in the future be affected for evil or for good according as Napoleon is successful or unsuccessful in his ambitious schemes in Mexico. From our stand-point of view, then, the action of the House of Representatives on Mr. Davis' resolution contrasts most favorably with that of the Senate when the resolution of Mr. McDougal was rejected.

We presume there can be little doubt but that the sentiment contained in Mr. Davis' resolution is the sentiment of the masses of the people of the United States, and in adopting it unanimously the House but re-echoed the voice of the constituents of the individual members. Let, therefore, the resolution be "paper thunder" or what not, for the present, it will in the end be acted upon by the Government of the United States. To this, public opinion will bring it inevitably. Napoleon can make up his mind to this, and if he would permanently establish in Mexico an imperial dynasty with a European prince at its head, he will have more to do than is required in the subjugation of the Mexican Republic. At the right time the United States can afford to expel the conquerors from their ill-gotten dominions and re-establish in Mexico that Republican form of government which should obtain in all parts of the American continent.

It is with pleasure that we record this action of the House of Representatives, that branch of the National Legislature which directly reflects the will of the people who elect its members.

On Tuesday the mule train of Messrs. Jewett arrived in this city from Kansas City. The train was freighted with a general assortment of goods suitable for this market.

Labels.—The Rio Abajo Press says that it will sue the editor of the Gazette for libel at its earliest convenience. Well let it sue, and make the most it can out of what it will gain in that way. The Gazette only pricked the bubble which the Press had for some time been blowing up around itself as being the representative of all the public virtue and political honesty that existed in New Mexico.

For the last three months it has not given the Gazette, or those connected with its management, credit for being governed by honest motives in a single policy it has advocated. It has, by innuendo, not by manly avowal, connected us with a clique in Santa Fe of which we know nothing and which has no existence except in the imagination of weak minded men who attempt to play the party leader, but who are a set of miserable demagogues who have not sense enough to cover their demagogism from the sight of the most indifferent observer of their movements. It charged the editor of the Gazette with endeavoring to inveigle Gov. Connelly into a position with reference to its pet, Army, which would necessitate the Governor's resignation, in order that he might be appointed the Governor's successor. Then, when he went to the States the Press gave out that he had gone for the purpose of securing some office and in one of its dyspeptic efforts at editorials did what it could to prejudice the authorities in Washington City against him by maliciously and knowingly misrepresenting the position which he occupies among his fellow citizens. Other instances of the Press' misrepresentations and puerile weaknesses in its course towards the Gazette might here be cited, but we have enough of it.

All the time that it has been engaged in the performance of the dirty work prescribed for it by its recent purchasers, it has been employed in its own inflation, the poor thing would not bear a great deal, leading itself to the skies as the pink essence of all that is good in the Territory. We, at this stage of its performance, thought proper to relieve it of some of its unwholesome gas and let it down to the level of groveling demagogues where it properly belongs. When it saw to what a plight it was reduced it was at once seized with an attack of the muligruha and threatened Col. Collins with a suit for libel.

The Denver News of the 27th April contains the following:

The New Mexican pays a flattering compliment to the people of Colorado in a review of our enabling act, and the prospective adoption of a state constitution. That paper displays a commendably liberal spirit in striking contrast with its dog-in-the-manger compeers of New Mexico.

The laborious efforts which are made by the News to attract the attention of the whole world and the rest of mankind to Colorado Territory and make them take a special interest in her petty political squabbles reminds us of an anecdote that has never been told by the President.

Once upon a time a well-to-do gentleman and lady who had a son named Charlie, aged eight years, gave a fashionable entertainment to their friends. Charlie was the only son and of course he was fitted out in fine style as to clothing, and perfumery was used in great profusion upon him by his dressing maid. When he was introduced into the parlor by his mother there was a large assemblage of guests collected and Charlie, after looking about himself for a few minutes and seeing that he was not attracting as much attention as he thought he should, said in a very confident tone: Ladies and gentlemen if you smell anything this evening, why that is me.

The News may make the application.

In the last Arizona Miner which we have received, bearing date April 20, we find the following, to which the attention of New Mexican merchants is directed:

New Mexican Merchants who have feared the road from the San Francisco Mountains, to this post, and to the new mines, will make a note of the Chavez cut off.—Leaving the Colorado Chiquito, near Leroux's Fork, at the point where the Whipple road first touches it, 90 miles west of Zuni, to which the route is comparatively unobjectionable, they have less than one hundred miles, through a generally smooth, and well watered and wooded country, with abundant grazing, to this region. They can come in far less time than by the San Francisco Mountains, and without risk of their wagons or animals. If Colonel Chavez should discover, as he will endeavor to, on his present return trip to the Rio Grande, a way direct from Zuni, by the Zuni River, to the San Francisco River, it will be a still greater improvement on the old road. But with the cut off already found, we shall be much surprised if the enterprising traders on the Rio Grande do not make haste to supply this Territory with the goods and provisions which it so much needs, and which it has the gold pay for.

TELEGRAPH.—There is an effort being made to have a branch of the Pacific Telegraph line extended from Denver to this city. At Fort Union and Las Vegas liberal subscriptions have been made to the stock, but we are informed that the citizens of Santa Fe are rather backward in subscribing. This should not be. We are the capital, and commercial centre of the Territory and would naturally derive the most advantage from the working of a telegraph line connecting with the States.—The whole amount required to complete the line is thirty thousand dollars. In New Mexico that sum should be subscribed without delay.

The subscription paper is at the office of Maj. McFerran where those who wish to take stock can have an opportunity to do so.

Hon. John S. Watts and Joshua R. Jones Esq. went to the States in this week's coach to attend the National Convention which will meet in Baltimore on the 7th of June to nominate a candidate for President. They, in connection with Col. Persa, are the Delegates from this Territory to said Convention, having been appointed by the Territorial Convention which assembled at Albuquerque on the 2nd inst.

A short time since Mr. Levi Spiegelberg, of the firm of Spiegelberg, Bros. left this city with his family for New York, where he will have his residence in the future. Mr. S. was highly esteemed and leaves many friends in the Territory.

Dr. Steck, Superintendent of Indian Affairs, arrived in the city last Monday, after an absence of several months in the States.

Our friends in Arizona will please accept our thanks for the kindness expressed in the letter transmitting the proceedings of the soldiers' meeting, which are to-day published. In our humble way we are willing to do all in our power for the advancement of the interests of our sister Territory.

We would direct especial attention to the card of Messrs Spiegelberg Bros. wholesale and retail dealers in foreign and domestic Staples.

Theirs is one of the oldest and most reliable houses in the Territory.

We are indebted to Mr. Post Master Hunt for a file of Mexican papers from Durango, Monterey and Chihuahua. They are all violently opposed to the French invasion and sustain Juarez.

Information Wanted of Andrew J. Otterson. When last heard from in 1860 he was in Santa Fe, N. M. Any person knowing anything about him will confer a favor upon anxious friends by giving information to Mrs. Kate Deriin, Sacramento City, Cal.

Gen'l. Carleton, Bishop Lamy, Dr. J. M. McNulty, Medical Inspector for the Department of New Mexico, Capt. W. H. Bell, of the Commissary Department, and J. M. Edgar Esq. started from this city on Thursday of last week to visit Forts Sumner and Bascom.

The armies under command of Genls. Grant and Lee in Virginia have had two days hard fighting, the Telegraphic report of which is contained in the following despatch:

WASHINGTON, May 7.—The Republican has the following:
Government has information that on last Wednesday night Grant's army was entirely across the Rapidan. It marched to a plain a little beyond and in the rear of the old Chancellorsville ground, when Lee was forced out of his works and offered battle, which was at once accepted. The fight became fierce and lasted until dark, the enemy being forced back some distance and with great loss. They left most of their killed and wounded in our hands.—The two armies lay on their arms all night Wednesday night and at daylight on Thursday the battle opened again, and raged with the greatest fury on both sides until dark, when it was found that the enemy had been forced back in the two days' fight about two and a half miles, leaving heaps of killed and wounded on the field.

Various estimates are made of the number slaughtered, but at this time it is useless to speculate on the subject.

On Friday morning at 5 o'clock our forces were preparing for another conflict. Grant is moving on Lee's works.

Up to this time Burnside's corps numbering 30,000 men, had taken no part in battle, but at half past five o'clock he was marching into position to engage in the bloody conflict of the third day's battle.

Of the result of this battle we have no report.

Thursday's battle commenced at 5 a. m. and unless Lee has received reinforcements equal to Burnside's corps, the battle must prove terribly disastrous to the rebels.

By reference to the advertisement of Mr. Blommer it will be seen that he is authorized to receive contributions from the people of Santa Fe for the Sanitary Fair which was begun in St. Louis on the 17th inst. Those who are disposed to contribute for the relief of wounded soldiers can do so at Mr. Blommer's office or to Mr. Hunt at the Post Office.

Our readers in El Paso, Texas, will do well to read the advertisement of Vicente St. Vrain Esq., which is to be found in another column.

Capt. Quintana has been in the city several days visiting his friends, preparatory to leaving, with his company, for Fort Bowie, at Apache Pass, where he has been ordered for duty.

At a meeting of the enlisted men of the garrison of Fort Whipple, Dist. of Northern Arizona, consisting of companies 'C,' & 'F' of the 1st Inf., and a Detachment of Company 'D,' 1st Cav. California Volunteers, held April 10th 1864, to express their appreciation of and respect for Lieut. Col. J. P. Chavez, 1st New Mexican Volunteers, and of which William R. McCormick was appointed President, and Fred G. Hughes, Secretary, the following resolutions were proposed, and unanimously adopted.

Resolved, That Col. Chavez as a polished officer and gentleman, has no superior in the army of the United States; as a friend he has won the deep respect and affection of every soldier over under his command, and more particularly by his unvarying kindness and the impartial discharge of his duties, as an officer, has deserved the lasting gratitude and esteem of every member of this garrison.

Resolved, That we regret exceedingly the necessity which deprives Fort Whipple and the Northern Dist. of Arizona, of the pleasant society and valuable experience of an officer so accomplished and universally respected, and while we feel the most unfeigned sorrow at his early departure from this Post, we offer him in sincerity, our best wishes for his advancement in either Civil or Military life, to any position in which he is so eminently and peculiarly qualified to sustain.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be forwarded to the Santa Fe Gazette and Arizona Miner for publication. Committee on resolutions "Fred. Hughes, Chas. J. Nickerson, Arthur J. Lockwood, Benjamin Harrison and Roche S. Davis.
